

Romulo Viernes

Administrative Coordinator

romulo@harbageconsulting.com

As an administrative coordinator at Harbage Consulting, Romulo Viernes contributes to the success of the firm by managing IT needs, booking company travel, and taking care of the necessary errands in the Sacramento office. He graduated from California State University–Sacramento with a B.S. in business administration with a concentration on human resources and organizational behavior. Romulo served in many student leadership roles such as co-directing multiple business career fairs and also helped organize and raise money for non-profit events such as Making Strides Against Breast Cancer and Relay for Life.

Romulo volunteers for the Sacramento Food Bank every Thanksgiving and volunteers for My Sister’s House, a non-profit organization that raises awareness of domestic violence, sexual assault, and human trafficking. He is an ambassador for the National Alopecia Areata Foundation and meets with the group every month at the University of California–Davis Medical Center in Sacramento.

During his free time, Romulo attends many Golden State Warriors, San Francisco Giants, and San Francisco 49ers games. You can also catch him at the American River Bike Trail every triathlon season and on the slopes of Lake Tahoe every snowboarding season.
