Marc Leonard is the Chief Financial Advisor at Harbage Consulting. In this role, Marc is primarily responsible for business administration and firm finances, and he plays a key role in business development activities. Marc manages the administrative team and provides high-level human resources support to the overall firm.

Previously, he spent nine years as controller at Xyratex, a $1 billion publicly traded company, which provides enterprise-class data storage. In his capacity as Controller, Marc directed the company's activities around finance, accounting, payroll, budgeting, and reporting. He oversaw local, national, and international staff. Marc also worked at Ernst and Young as an associate where he gained valuable experience in assurance and tax compliance, at Franklin Templeton Investments as a senior financial analyst, and briefly for the City of Stockton, California.

Marc holds a bachelor of science in accountancy, a master's in business administration in finance, and a juris doctorate from University of the Pacific. He is a Sacramento native and enjoys spending time with his family and challenging himself with all forms of physical activity. He is also a diehard Denver Broncos fan.
